Last June a spectacular butterfly brooch was sold € 303,460.

Suzanne Belperron is an emblematic figure of the mid-twentieth century world of jewelry. The designer offered to her prestigious clientele innovative jewels in terms of materials, shapes and volumes. She had a strong personality and never signed her jewelry. she was used to say: «my style is my signature».

On December 13, two remarkable rings created by Belperron will be offered at auction. The first was commissioned in May 1938 by the grandmother of its current owner, the second in December 1943 by a great Parisian singer. «This impressive ring seems to illustrate the power of character for which it was made,» says Olivier Baroin, Suzanne Belperron expert.

Among many other rare pieces, Aguttes will also offer an important Cartier box made around 1925 in Paris and decorated with lacquered decorations. During its Chinese inspiration period, it was not rare to find in Cartier creations real elements coming from China or Japan like here the engraved jade or the plates of lacquer integrated to the box.

Finally, young women will not fail to marvel discovering this magical diamonds diadem from the nineteenth century.

Enjoying steady growth since its establishment in Neuilly-sur-Seine more than twenty years ago, while also holding auctions at Drouot in Paris and in Lyon, AGUTTES was ranked as the fourth largest auction house in the French market in 2018, and the leading independent French auction house (without external shareholders). Headed by Claude Aguttes since 1974, six associates, including his daughters Philippine Dupré la Tour and Charlotte Reynier-Aguttes, help manage the company today. The company holds 110 auctions per year with a team of 40, including four authorized auctioneers.

AGUTTES is also a major and most dynamic actor at Drouot in Paris, where it achieved the highest bids in 2015 and in 2017.

Due to its professionalism, the auction house was recently chosen by the French Commercial Court to orchestrate the auctions of Aristophil's tremendous collection of old manuscripts.

With its ability to commit in ambitious projects thanks to its audacity, which remains intact since its creation, to its financial base and the strengthening of its international positioning, the company is today a major player in the international art market.
